The internal accommodation comprises: A private entrance leading to the upper floor, where the accommodation opens into a spacious lounge diner. This well-proportioned reception room benefits from ample natural light and provides plenty of space for both relaxing and dining, with a layout that flows through to the kitchen.

The kitchen is larger than typically found in a traditional Tyneside flat and is fitted with a range of contemporary wall and base units, complemented by contrasting work surfaces and integrated cooking appliances. There is also space for additional appliances, with a window providing natural light.

The property offers two generously proportioned double bedrooms. The master bedroom is a spacious room with a feature fireplace and ample space for bedroom furniture, while the second bedroom is also a comfortable double, offering flexibility for guests, family or use as a home office.

The bathroom has been relocated from its traditional position off the kitchen and now occupies what would originally have been the third bedroom. This creates a notably generous bathroom, fitted with a three-piece suite comprising a bath, wash basin and WC.

Externally, the property benefits from a good-sized private rear yard, providing useful outdoor space. The enclosed courtyard is predominantly paved and offers potential for seating and outdoor entertaining.
